Tonight's exciting business...

-SPEECHES WOOOO. Voting for the 2nd round is next week and Friday. Speaking of elections, don't forget to write in Maggie (that's "Andersen" with an "e") and Erik Tanner (Daniel Hays). Third round apps are out now as well.

-Improvements committee has made improvements. Chairs are in the computer labs and 219.

-O-Week apps are out, due Sunday at 8 pm. Interviews will be next week from Wednesday to Sunday, so sign up, dude.

-HuMed is doing dimsum dinner, and are auctioning certificates for Rice Village restaurants. Tickets are gonna be $7, which Oanh will be selling in the commons.

-Rice Playas are doing "Dog Sees God" this and next Friday through Sunday, 8:00-9:30 at Hamman Hall.

-Ladies' Night is Sunday at 9 o'clock in the TV room, will include decorating sugar cookies and watching "Sex in the City." I will probably not be attending, though I may get up in drag just for the hell of it.

-MAN NIGHT is also happening this Saturday. There will be a huge bonfire, manly movies, and manly food made by men, for men. Awards will be given to those who bring the manliest food and manliest beer. Basically, you are probably going to grow out a beard real quick when you show up.

-Page is running alcohol server training sessions next Wednesday in the commons at 7:30 and 9:30. You'll get creamy J and a shiny service hour if you go down there.

-Jake is gonna hang out with the chief justices and the dean's office this week to discuss alcohol policy, if you have any ideas send them to him at jrk3@rice.edu

-Also, Matt tries a sly maneuver and asks for Jake's phone number instead. Everyone feels a little violated, and shuffles in their seats uncomfortably.

-That career fair thing was a great success, give Tommy your feedback.

-We scored a boatload of money from the college enhancement fund, which will be put towards new bikes and OC lunch days!

-Speaking of bikes, we need bikers. Or, apparently, if you just want to move your legs, talk to Dylan.

-"Last Chance" mixer at WRC commons, 7-9 pm, Friday, go make some friends/hookups down south.

-Crush party is tomorrow night at pub. There will be cookies and "wholesome activites," according to J-Lit.

-First baseball game is next Friday, will finally feature kegs. We'll get money if we're the college that sends the most kids to sporting events, so turn in your tickets.

-Erik and Daniel thank you for supporting their presidential bid, are also embarking on a write-in campaign for O-Week advisor.

-Claire has a bunch of jobs for you. Email her (ckm4@rice.edu) about helping out with Martel's student-run play, as well as scoring service hours by working at the piano recital on the 22nd.
